SKI & BOARD MARIBORSKO POHORJE A mountain range with its highest peak rising to 1.347 metres above sea level: it is practically a part of Maribor, Slovenia's second largest city. You can reach the cabin lift leading from the valley to the ski slope via the city bus network. In the absence of natural snow, artificial snow guarantees one hundred skiing days a year. If the temperature is suitably low, the slope is covered with snow all the way down to the valley, so you can ski from 1.327 to 325 meters above sea level. There are also 27 km of pathways for cross-country skiing. Mariborsko Pohorje is also known for the traditional »Golden Fox« the women's alpine skiing world cup. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Easy trails: 10,0 km ● Medium trails: 16,0 km ● Difficult trails: 14,0 km Total length: 40,0 km 	SKI & BOARD KOPE Lies in the westernmost and highest part of Pohorje. The rolling terrain offers trails for both beginners and experienced skiers, with its longest slope boasting a length of 1.400 meters and a height difference of 500 meters on above sea level from 1.010 m to 1.542 m. You can enjoy magical adventures on the 10 km of ski trails, which are connected by 6 ski lifts and a four-seat chairlift. With the help of artificial snow they guarantee one hundred skiing days a year. For cross-country skiing lovers there are 10 km of well prepared and beautiful panoramic paths.
